

CROWDS WILL CHEER MARATHON RUNNERS

Moving Pictures of Athletes Will Be Made, so That Entire Country May Witness Athletic Awakening of South. Street Will Be Lined With

The pistol's primed; the men arching given the very best they have ready, and that's the now needed is for in them.

Mayor. Aims to give the runners in the first annual modified Marathon of The Times at 3 o'clock. Thousands upon an-sands of people far away from Richmond will be lined with the thousands

Nor is the interest in the run confined to the State of Virginia. They will be in all sections to view the spectacle. The streets along the route of the run will be lined with thousands

Certainly no athletic event ever held in the South has created such widespread interest as has this run the State. Through the streets of the city these youngsters, well-trained, ruddy of skin and strong of limb, will be seen in the full bloom of youth. They will be to the strong and the old. The laggards will be left behind. Fortunately the list of entrants contains the names of men who will finish the course. Each of these men, the first honors they will have the still greater honor of having tried and tory of Interleague Clashes—Secretary Foster, of Giants, Returns $50,000 Sent for Seats.

TICKETS FOR SERIES ARE IN BIG DEMAND

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] New York, September 30.—That a nation-wide event never before equaled, in being charged with the Polo Grounds in the three games between the Giants and Boston Red Sox here. More than 35,000 fans were pres-

The world's series is indicated by an announcement made by officials of the American League baseball club today that they had returned at least $500,000 in checks and cash to the players who had won the game.

The league requests have come from every part of the country, one fan in San Francisco sending $72, with requests for the same amount from this city, but, because of the rule that no player can be paid more than once ever before, and even greater than we expected.

The verdict of the national commission forbidding players who partici-

Reports from Philadelphia state that ticket sales for the first game were as great as here, but there, too, all tickets would be held by the club officials. The Philadelphia Athletics' initial contest, Betting is about even on the outcome of the series.

Philadelphia fans attending the series, 162,854 fans crowded the

LOCAL GRIDIRON NOTES BY "PREP"

John Marshall High School had several men and ladies on the sidelines yesterday. The ladies were Mrs. J. C. Tinsley, who is trying for the backfield; Mathews, trying for end, and Staples, who is fighting for a position in the line. The men played good in the scrimmage between the first and second squads yesterday.

There is not long to wait for the championship series in the Prep School League.

The Medical College of Virginia's

Richmond Academy will be on the warpath in a few days. That Academy bunch knows how to play that game of football.

The Benedictine College squad has just started to practicing signals.

Coaches Lutz and Montgomery are confident that when the league starts they will have a good team to represent the school.

Koburn and Jones, of the Richmond College squad, are showing up well and may prove stars at the game. Coburn, in the Jones' line, is the likeliest of good tacks, and Jones, on the end, is a good tackle and knows the game.

WEATHER PLAYS HAVOC WITH MEN

Practice at University.

Charlottesville, Va., September 26.—The hot weather played havoc with Virginia's football practice to-day, some thirty candidates failing to report. There was just enough material on the field for three

The Varsity did not engage in the usual scrimmage, but was given ten minutes of defensive work. The line showed marked improvement, the Scrubs being unable to advance beyond the three yard line as well at right end. White, of baseball fame, who is fast developing into a drop-kicker of note, was tried out at left end. Coleman succeeded Landas at fullback, while Ray tried out at half back. The varsity team chuffy fullback suffered a strain before the opening of the season, and will be unable to re-enter the fray until the second or third battle.

The coaching has always been a mainstay in the basketball field, and is an infallible line plunger. Heurling weighs nearly 200 pounds and is firmly fixed for a weighty player. He will be in line form before the decisive clashes with V. P. I. and North Carolina. The coaching staff includes Coach J. H. Jones are included in the personnel of the Washington and Lee gridiron team. Captain death, as the players were generally smashed over the top of the line and into the end zone. Captain Carter played in mid-season form.

Sprague, after an absence of ten days, rejoined the squad. He is one of the applicants for the All-Southern team.

Barker, an All-Southern tackle and former captain of the University of Mississippi eleven, reported yesterday for work with the team.

and Ted Shultz, right tackle, are the two giants.

In football toes Shultz weighs just 235 pounds, while Miles is lighter by ten pounds. The ranga tackles are extremely strong, such weight, and are towers of strength on the defense. Last season was Miles' second year with the generals, while Shultz was a freshman. He is expected to play a position on the All-South Atlantic team.

Pittsburgh Lions Game 30.—The Louisville Cardinals were defeated by the Louisville American Association team 6 to 5 in a ten-inning game here last night.

Call Off Series if

Players Write Stories

Cincinnati, September 30.—That the National Baseball Commission may declare off the world's series if players participating in the series refuse to refrain from writing newspaper articles is the subject of a report.

"The commission will enforce the principle prohibiting the players in the world's series from allowing the use of their names over newspaper articles," declared Herrmann, "and it is probable the series will be called off if the players refuse to live up to the rule. The commission will protect the newspapers that have secured the contracts of players to write the articles."

